

The Road to Reading Starts at the Library!

Libraries provide incredible resources that put all children on the road to skilled reading. To become a skilled reader, you need language comprehension and decoding skills.

Teach my Kid to Read helps libraries provide all the resources to support learning to decode and build knowledge of our wonderful, diverse world.

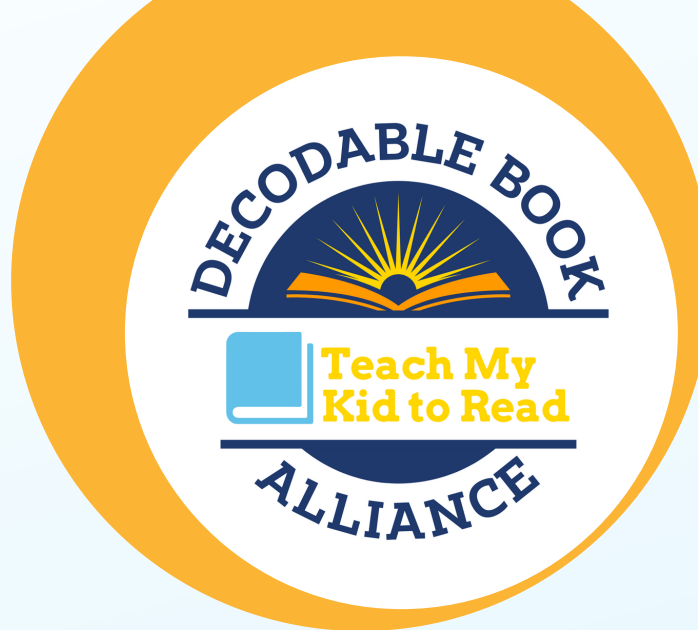

Step 1
(CVC Words)

Step 5
(vowel teams)

Step 6
(silent letters)

Teach My Kid to Read
is proud to host
The Decodable Book Alliance
with the following publishers:

Aligned Educational Resources
Charge Mommy Books
Decodable Adventures
Dog on a Log
Express Readers
High Noon Books
Laughing Ogre Press
Meg & Greg Books/Orca Two Reads
Pat & Pals
Phonic Books/DK Learning
Rex Runs Off Series
Simple Words Books
Whole Phonics
World Travel Press
YouKan Publishing

 Teach My Kid to Read

CREATING COMMUNITY LITERACY SOLUTIONS

www.teachmykidtoread.org

What are Decodable Books?

Decodable books allow early and struggling readers to practice the phonics skills they have learned with books that match these skills.

Like training wheels, decodable books provide essential practice decoding until reading becomes automatic.

Decodable books progress logically from simple to complex based on mastery at each level.

The collection includes a range of decodable books for pre-readers, emergent readers, and older struggling readers, as well as fiction and nonfiction.

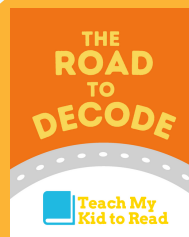

How Do I Use Decodable Books?

Ask your child's teacher what phonics skills your child has learned, then check the inside cover to see what skills the book includes.

- Decodable books list the skills presented in each book, so you can choose the right book based on what your child has learned.
- Decodable books are systematic and cumulative to provide continuing practice with previously learned skills.

Look for the orange label for the decodable books.

Beyond Decoding

Decodables also support vocabulary, comprehension and other important literacy skills for beginning and struggling readers.

Teach My Kid to Read Solutions

Teach My Kid to Read provides libraries with training/education, access to decodables, operational support selecting, cataloging, and organizing decodables, and guidance with outreach and literacy programming.

Contact us today at info@teachmykidtoread.org and learn how your library can become the hub of a community literacy solution!